

NEWSPAPERS IN EDUCATION INITIATIVE:

Newspaper Club at GPMS

By Brinlynn Wallace
5th Grade Reporter

This year, Goodpine Middle School started clubs in September, and one of the most exciting new clubs is the Newspaper Club! We have eight awesome members: Willow, Allee, Livi, Brinlynn, Chase, Lincoln, Allie, and Luke. Our sponsor is Mrs. Foreman.

In Newspaper Club, we work together to write articles, take pictures, and edit our work to make sure everything looks great before it's printed. We've learned how to ask good questions, find interesting stories, and work as a team.

We love being part of this club because it lets us share what's happening at our school and show off the amazing things students are doing. The Newspaper Club is a great place for creative thinkers, good writers, and anyone who likes to tell stories!

Field Day at GPMS

By Lincoln Henry
5th Grade Reporter

Do you ever want to know how Field Day at Goodpine Middle School was? If you were wondering, this newspaper will give you all the information! This article will tell you about all the activities we had on Field Day.

The first activity was bouncing on big balls around a cone and back. It was fun, but some of us got hurt — we just walked it off! The bouncy balls were super fun but a little dangerous if you didn't do it right. One person said, "The bouncy balls were so fun, but it was kind of hard to control them because most of our legs are short. Other than that, it was awesome!" Another person said, "It was fun but hard." That was the end of this activity.

The next activity was the sack race. The sack race was hard but fun! Students had to jump in a sack, go around a cone, and come back. This was also a little dangerous because a lot of people tripped and fell. One person said, "It was fun!

There was a bunch of falling, but it was still fun. We hopped side to side, then twisted and jumped all the way to the end." Another person said, "There was a lot of jumping and twisting." That was the end of this activity.

The third activity was the scooter race. You had to ride a scooter around a cone and back before the other team finished. Some people crashed, and some went really fast! One person said, "When my friend was pushing me, my scooter hit the target and almost knocked it over, but it was still fun!" This activity was exciting, a little dangerous, but super fun. That was the end of this activity.

The last activity was snow cones! They had three flavors — cotton candy, strawberry, and pickle. The snow cones were cold and delicious. One person said, "The snow cones were so good! I wish I got the red one, which was strawberry flavor, but instead I got the blue one, which was cotton candy. It didn't have a lot of flavor and kept spilling, but it was still good."

Field Day was an awesome time at Goodpine Middle School! Everyone had fun, laughed a lot, and made great memories.
